2018 Performance Report

Account #1 + 29.59%

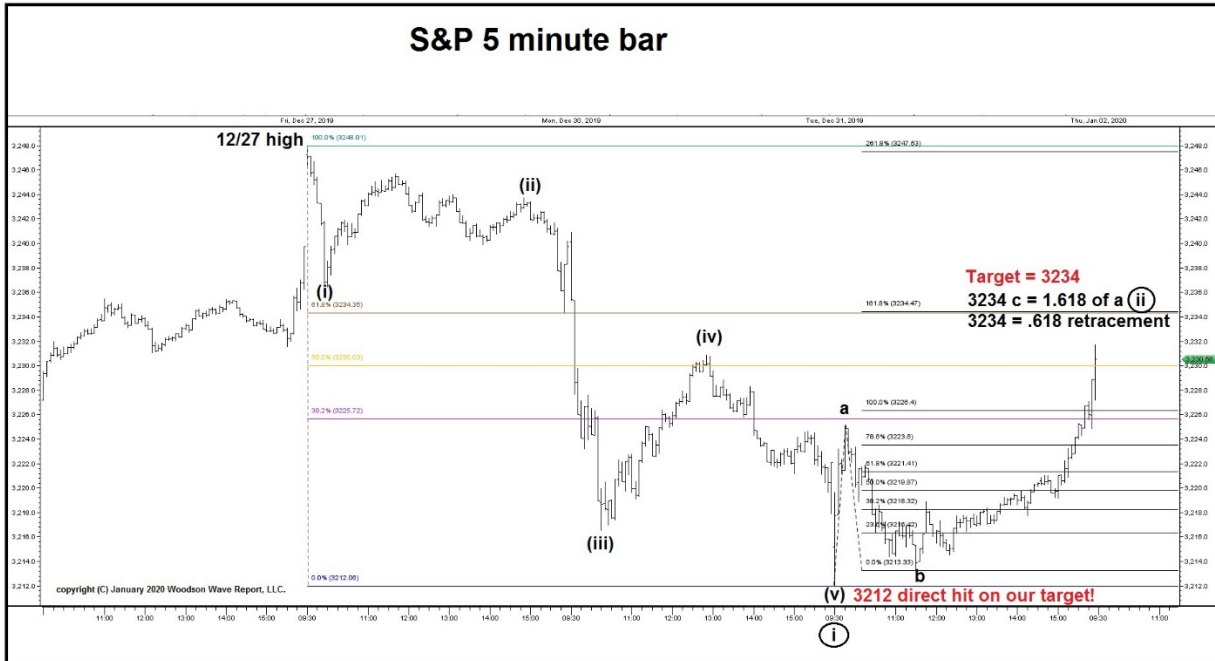

Account #2 + 69.04%

Account #3 + 133.47%

S&P 500 – 6.24%

Direct hit on our 3212 downside target 3234 next upside target

.618 Retracement = 3234
Wave c = 1.618 of a at 3234

As the 12/30 report illustrated wave (v) would gain a Fibonacci 1.618 relationship to wave (i) at 3212. At the open on 12/31 the S&P hit 3212 completing five waves to the downside and a direct hit on our target, then promptly reversed course higher. The ideal Fibonacci stopping place for this advance is 3234. Wave c up will gain a 1.618 multiple with wave a and the entire five wave decline from the 12/27 will sport a perfect .618 retracement at 3234.

Gaps

There are now four open gaps up for the month of December.

3223 = gap from close on 12/24. Closed 12/30/19.

3205 = gap from close on 12/19.

3168 = gap from close on 12/13.

3117 = gap from close on 12/05.

3093 = gap from close on 12/03.

Upside Targets:

3234 = .618 retracement of recent five wave decline

3234 = Wave c up = 1.618 of wave a up.

3330 = Next Fibonacci multiple at two levels.

Upside potential is roughly 100 S&P points to 3330.

Downside risk is roughly 1,300+ points to 2000. Proceed with caution.
