Upside Target Achieved

Jan. 2nd chart above. Target achieved.

From our January 2, 2020 report:

“The ideal Fibonacci stopping place for this advance is 3234. Wave c up will gain a 1.618 multiple with wave a and the entire five wave decline from the 12/27 will sport a perfect .618 retracement at 3234.”

The S&P not only hit 3234 but surpassed it attaining a high of 3258. From here as we’ve stated numerous times the downside risk (1,300 points) far outweighs the upside (100 points) potential. WWR resumes a short position on the Dow, S&P, NASDAQ in the short and intermediate term.

Downside Target, Gaps

There are now four open gaps up for the month of December.

3205 = gap from close on 12/19.

3168 = gap from close on 12/13.

3117 = gap from close on 12/05.

3093 = gap from close on 12/03.

Upside Targets:

3234 = .618 retracement of recent five wave decline – achieved.

3234 = Wave c up = 1.618 of wave a up achieved.

3330 = Next Fibonacci multiple at two levels.

Upside potential is roughly 100 S&P points to 3330.

Downside risk is roughly 1,300+ points to 2000. Proceed with caution.
