S&P 500 Long Term

Chart Above from 3/6/09 low, chart below from 1/26/18 high

Our long term count remains unchanged as the expanding triangle from the January 2018 high continues to develop. While the Fibonacci turn dates from the start of the triangle don't identify every turning point, it did nail the February low to within a day and the wave B high to within eight Fibonacci trading days. While the wave D high to date is July 26, 2018, with the S&P once again nearing the top and the next turn date in the sequence at September 28, 2019 (Saturday) there is still a chance that wave D will top in the first week or two of October. Ideally wave E and the fourth wave low terminates on October 9, 2020 below 2038.

Expanding Triangle
1/26/2018	Target
13 days	02/08/18	low = 02/09/18
233 days	09/16/18	B = 09/26/18
377 days	02/07/19
610 days	09/28/19	Wave D high?
987 days	10/09/20	Wave E low?

Bond Market

The September monthly report stated:

“Remain short as Bonds are near the Fibonacci .786 retracement level of 168.48. Move to a long position with any move above the July 2016 high of 177.83.”

We labeled that high as the wave (c) high of the move up. True to form the Bond market honored that .786 retracement level and has moved downward ever since. The chart above illustrated a completed four wave pattern with wave four retracing a perfect Fibonacci .618 of wave three down. Wave five down to new lows (in price, high in yields) is in play. As the chart illustrates the fifth wave will gain a Fibonacci 1.618 multiple with wave one down at 156.80.

Gold Market

The September monthly report stated:

“WWR moves to a long position in the Gold market against the wave 1 high of 1374.91. Move to a short position with any drop below 1374.91.”

Since our report gold has begun the fourth wave retracement of the expanded third wave. Within this third wave we can count sub waves (i) through (iii) as complete. The Fibonacci retracement targets for wave (iv) are:

.382 = 1445

.500 = 1411

.618 = 1377

Wave (iv) must not violate the price territory of wave (i) which is the high of 1346. This is our make or bread (MOB) level for the extended third wave count. Once wave (iv) is complete, wave (v) of 3 will carry gold to a new high. Fibonacci perfection with wave one lies above at 1599.
